SEPTIC SYSTEM INFO

Several counties in Washington state use septic systems for waste. This guide will help you understand how the system works.

On Site Sewage Systems

An onsite sewage system (OSS) is also known as a septic system. OSS are designed to help prevent the spread of illness and disease by collecting, treating and dispersing wastewater from a home or business into the native soils near a home or business.

An OSS is typically made up of two or more components, or pieces, linked together with pipes. There are two general types of OSS available for use in Washington State; the unique site conditions for each individual lot (e.g., soil type and depth, size of lot, distance to surface waters and wells, etc.) determine which type of OSS can be installed. Different combinations of components may be used to best suit site conditions and owner preferences.

How do Septic Tanks Work?

Typically, the septic tank is a large, buried, rectangular or cylindrical container made of concrete, fiberglass, or polyethylene. Standard sizes range from 1,000 to 1,500 gallons.

In Washington State, septic tanks are required to have two compartments, with access lids to each compartment for servicing and pumping. For most types of OSS, the septic tank is the core component. All the wastewater from a home or business is routed to the septic tank for primary treatment. Primary treatment is a filtering process whereby heavy solids can settle-out, and floating solids are trapped, due to baffles situated at the entrance and exit to each compartment of the septic tank.

The result is clarified effluent that is more easily absorbed by native soils in the drainfield area. Adequate primary treatment is essential to protect drainfields and allow them to function properly.

Drainfields

The drainfield is a network of perforated pipes (or "laterals") laid in gravel-filled trenches or beds. After solids settle in the septic tank, the liquid wastewater (or effluent) is discharged, either by gravity or pressure, to an absorption field, also known as a drainfield or leachfield (see diagram of septic system/drainfield layout). NOTE: In most gravity systems the wastewater first flows into a distribution box (d-box) or tee, which then disburses the effluent equally among the trenches in the drainfield, which is where the final treatment takes place.

Effluent trickles out of the pipes, through the gravel layer, and into the soil where further treatment occurs. The soil filters the wastewater as it passes (or "percolates") through the pore spaces and the soil microbes treat it before it eventually enters the groundwater. These processes work best where the soil is somewhat dry, permeable, and contains plenty of oxygen for several feet below the drainfield.

The drainfield is generally located in a stretch of lawn in the back or side yard of a property. The size and type of drainfield depends on the estimated daily wastewater flow and local soil conditions.

The soil below the drainfield provides the final treatment and disposal of the septic tank effluent. After the wastewater has passed into the soil, organisms in the soil treat the effluent before it percolates downward and outward, eventually entering ground or surface water. The type of soil also impacts the effectiveness of the drainfield; for instance, clay soils may be too tight to allow much wastewater to pass through and gravelly soil may be too coarse to provide much treatment.

Every new home or building served by a septic system is required to have a designated replacement or reserve area. This is a designated area suitable for a new drainfield and must be treated in the same manner as your existing drainfield. (A reserve area should have been designated as part of the permit process for any sewage system installed since 1980.)

Once a septic system has failed, it is too late to solve the problem by pumping your tank. A new drainfield will have to be installed at a different location.

Maintaining Your Septic System

Septic Tanks

Septic tanks need to be inspected at least every 3 years and pumped as needed to prevent solids from damaging the drainfield. Solids and scum not decomposed remain in the tank. If not removed, solids or scum may eventually overflow into the drainfield and damage it. Additive products are not necessary and may harm the system. Access to the tank is important for regular pumping & maintenance.

Drainfields

- Route or direct surface and ground water away from the system to prevent flooding
- Limit use of chemicals and garbage disposals
- Prevent physical damage from driving, parking, building, burning, livestock pasturing and sprinkler systems

Protecting Your Sewage System

- Watch what goes down the drains
  - Keep grease, hair, and food scraps from going down the drain
  - Don't flush diapers, plastics, paper towels, cigarettes, personal hygiene products or kitty litter down the toilet
  - Don't use a garbage disposal
  - Don't use automatic toilet bowl cleaner or deodorizers
  - Don't use excessively strong drain cleaners or other chemicals
- Use concentrated liquid detergents
  - Don't overuse detergents
  - Minimize use of liquid fabric softeners
  - Fillers in some powdered detergents can clog pipes
- Don't drown the drainfield
  - Fix leaky fixtures and toilets
  - Conserve water
  - Divert surface waters and downspouts away from the drainfield

Locating Your Septic System

Washington state counties keep records of Septic Information (also called "As-Builts"). You can find these through the county's website (usually with the assessor's/treasurer's/auditor's website) or on the public health website for your county.

If you are unsure or records aren't available, you can visit the Washington State Department of health website and find more information there.

ROAD MAINTENANCE AGREEMENTS

Your property may have a recorded “Road Maintenance Agreement” attached to it.
So, what exactly is a road maintenance agreement?

Road Maintenance Agreements (RMAs) are applied to private roads; meaning they are owned by individuals, not the government. They are typically called “Residential Roads,” and can be owned and maintained by a Homeowner’s Association.

RMAs are good things to have in place if you share a common access with one or more properties. Sometimes the only access to some properties (especially rural areas) is a private easement road from a public right of way; which means the responsibility of the road maintenance falls on the people who have the right to use the road.

A Road Maintenance Agreement will generally contain these items:

- Legal description of all properties who have a right to use the road
- How the costs for repairs will be incurred by the parties
- Emergency repairs and the consequences for non-participation in the maintenance.

What do they look like?

In your Title Commitment, in Schedule B Part 2, under “Special Exceptions,” you will see a section containing the information about the RMA. The Auditor File Number will let you view the recorded document in the county’s records. You can click the link or visit the county’s website to see the document.

ROAD MAINTENANCE AGREEMENT.

Between: Company A LTD, a Washington corporation.

Dated: September 28, 1990.

Recorded: September 28, 1990.

Auditor's File No.: 123456

The Road Maintenance Agreement will have all the details of the Agreement, including a map, all properties affected by the RMA, and how any dues for road maintenance are paid.

INTERcity TRANSIT

Intercity Transit in Thurston County offers several methods of transportation—Buses, vanpools and Dial-A-Lift.

Buses

Check out the Intercity Transit Bus Routes at <https://www.intercitytransit.com/bus/system-map>.

As part of Intercity Transit's commitment to the community after the November 2018 passage of Intercity Transit Proposition 1, the Intercity Transit Authority (Authority) explored ways to make collecting fares easier and faster, to reduce delays and to simplify access for more riders. This was one of the community-identified priorities that resulted from our two-year public engagement process, IT Road Trip.

On December 4, 2019, the Authority approved implementation of a five-year "zero-fare" demonstration project. The project went into effect on January 1, 2020. This means that bus and Dial-A-Lift passengers will not pay fares to use the services during the demonstration.

Learn more about zero-fare service and how the Intercity Transit Authority reached this decision here.

Vanpool

Vanpool is offered throughout Thurston county and allows groups of people to share a ride. This is similar to a carpool, but it's operated on a larger scale with a provided van. Find a vanpool, start a vanpool or find out more at

<https://www.intercitytransit.com/vanpool>

Dial-A-Lift

Dial-A-Lift is a door-to-door, shared ride public transportation service for people with disabilities that prevent them from using our fixed route bus service. We offer Dial-A-Lift service where and when fixed route buses operate.
